He was a student of the prestigious Shuimu university who woke up in the schools' hospital after being unconscious for three days. He had fainted from heatstroke just four days ago. "Fatty, if you don't lose weight, you'll die". Those were the words the school doctor said to him as he left the school hospital.

He is a large man, with a height of 1.9 meters and weighs over 300 kilograms, he could be described as a mountain of meat. Everyone thought the reason he collapsed from heatstroke was that he is too fat. Little did they know that after he collapsed 10 000 nanobots and a nanobot control system entered his body.

During the three days he was unconscious, countless information entered his brain. There was information about machines, weaponry, movies, games, and even companies he has never heard of. There also existed major events that never happened before. When he woke up, it was as if he had a future memory or a dream. He later discovers the wonderful effects of the nanobots and how they can turn him into an engineering genius.

He starts having grand ambitions to improve the life of his family and even his country. But could he be capable of turning his ambitions into reality?
